

Monitors are a great way for the caregiver to “keep an eye” on their loved one when in another room. Some monitors offer 2-way communication. The monitor also enables the caregiver to hear if there is an emergency.

12. Monitors

SOUND MONITORS

Ultimate Sound Monitor

by Safety 1st

$15–$20

This monitor offers 2-channel option to provide optimum transmission. It also has

- Volume level control
- Belt clip for portability
- Receiver has AC wall adapter as well as 9 volt battery option
- Transmitter features power indicator LED

Available at Burlington Coat Factory and other stores.

Paging Monitor

by Fisher-Price

$30–$40

This 900Mhz Long Range Monitor features sound activated vibrations and lights allowing the user to “see, hear, and feel” their loved one’s call.

Available at Babies “R” Us and other stores.

Sound 'N Lights Monitor
by Fisher-Price
$15–$20

The Sound 'N Lights monitor has a variable light display that lets you “see” the sounds a loved one makes. Its crystal clear reception can even pick up quiet sounds as your loved one sleeps, and it has two channels to minimize outside interference. The receiver is portable, so you can take it with you around the house or yard. The durable and flexible antennas allow for greater range and excellent clarity.

Available at Babies “R” Us and other stores.

VIDEO MONITOR

Child View Monitor and Television

by Safety 1st
$120–$130

This view monitor allows the caregiver to both view and hear their loved one from another location within the house.

- The camera can be mounted either on the wall or on a tabletop
- It provides “day and night” security through special infrared “Night Vision” technologies
- The monitor can be switched from visual to audio when appropriate

Available at Burlington Coat Factory and other stores.